CHOOSE LIFE – Pregnancy Hot Line (909) 985-0205
We have clear cut choices to make, as spelled out in Deuteronomy, 30:19: “I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and curse; therefore choose life, that you and your descendants may live...” Isn’t it up to us to choose life and ignore the “false gods” of our culture telling us that the killing of the unborn is morally acceptable?

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY
2nd SUNDAY IN EASTER
May 1st, 2011

Practice Generosity –
Generosity is a readiness to give and to share. It is one of the first virtues which parents undertake to teach to their little children.

God the Father taught us generosity when He created men and angels to share in His happiness. An even greater act of generosity on His part was His sharing of His Divine Son, Jesus our Savior, with us.

When generosity is directed to the poor, it is called charity. Often we think of charity in terms of money. However, there are many blessings that money can’t buy which we, who are not blessed with wealth, can give. Stop and think—what are some of them and do we give them?

God has given to most of us the gift of speech. Often we can bring joy into the life of another by just a few kind words. Try it!

Additionally most of us enjoy the privilege of hearing and take it for granted that everyone can hear, but visually you cannot know when someone does not have this ability. When a person loses the ability to hear, many things become difficult or even impossible. That person may need you to become a hearing aid for them because restoring hearing with a hearing aid is not always possible.

Nearly everyone of us can see. We can be more responsive to the needs of a blind person and more alert to befriend the shy, the timid, the neglected. Those who are blessed with good health and strength can give cheerful assistance to the sick or incapacitated. This is a very Christlike form of generosity.

Some of us have free time. Part of this time may, perhaps, be directed to helping a friend who is overwhelmed with pressing duties or worries.

Perhaps we may give away an extra coat to someone in greater need.

Possibly we may have food we can share from our personal store or garden; even through our employment, food might be discarded and you have the opportunity to request permission to receive it for the good of others. It never hurts to ask for this kind of privilege because many occasions exist and only lack a willing heart to deliver it to another in need.

And, have we checked our talents—our expertise in sewing, cooking, typing, painting, cleaning, general labor of various kinds, etc.? We will be glad in eternity if we have generously shared these talents with the church, an orphanage, or perhaps with a friend or stranger. Selfishness brings unhappiness and by sharing we experience the joy of being loved by God and people. When we meet our Heavenly Father we will wish that we had done more for His other or less fortunate children. We are part of God’s plan to dispense His kindness and mercies.

Now think big!
Have we considered being a Good Samaritan towards a struggling member of our own family?

Is God calling us to serve Him in some needy part of the world? Generosity is a sister of kindness.

It is a virtue which, like perfume, cannot be showered on another without sharing in the pleasure we bestow!

--Sister Mary Gemma Brunke
